

Communicating Effectively: 2.0 Style

NCASC Collaboration Conference

Doc Engwall and Josie Gonzalez

A Little About Me:

- Doc Engwall, 17
- Senior at Eastern Alamance High School
- Play soccer and swim
- Favorite kind of music is alternative, I like Hot Flash Heat Wave, Dayglow, and Vacations
- I love to hike!

A Little About Me:

-Josie Gonzalez, 16

-Junior at Eastern Alamance High School

-I was born in Georgia and moved here when I was 3 month old.

-I ran Cross country and winter track

-I live on a farm with fainting goats, cows and donkeys

How much does a polar bear weigh?

...Enough to break the ice!

Put a finger down if...

A History of Communication:

-Council meetings were the best way to spread information

-How did your school structure their government hierarchy?

-If you had an idea, how would you present it?

Communicating New Ideas:

-A recurring theme throughout today's presentation: respect.

-Be respectful of the government hierarchy (don't go over your adviser's head)

-Be mindful of the way you speak about others and their work or merit

-Don't dawdle with the presentation of your ideas, get to the point, and explain it well... don't leave any loose ends

Communicating with Peers:

-A recurring theme throughout today's presentation: respect.

-Be respectful with the way you speak to your peers... kind words

-Do not assume all information is universal

-Make sure to clearly explain all information and don't leave gaps

-However, do not be condescending

Communicating with Administration:

- A theme throughout today's presentation: respect.
- Choose your words carefully
- Work with your adviser and peers to appeal your idea
- Make sure to lay out all information and all aspects of your plan
 - If you don't, and you're caught, you could lose trust and/or privileges

Thank you!

Questions

Comments

Concerns

Feel free to reach out!

Doc Engwall

Instagram: @doc_engwall

Snapchat: @doc_engwall

Josie Gonzalez

Instagram: @josie16g

Snapchat: @jojobear966

Have a great conference
and weekend!

Later alligators