SkillShops

The SkillShops are opportunities to learn more about the topics presented during last fall's virtual District Leadership Conferences – Versatility, Collaboration, and Empathy. During a very unusual year, students have been challenged in many ways. Those challenges will continue in arenas beyond the doors of the local school. Student leaders must lead students to think about those challenges and the ways to overcome them by being versatile all while collaborating with and having empathy for others.

NCASC is grateful for the assistance of the SkillShops presenters who are leaders in their own schools and states and have a passion for their topic. We are hopeful that you will gain ideas on how you can share what you learn with students in your school after this convention.
